"August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower. Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure."

A Valuable Invention.

A gentleman who has made several important mechanical inventions, and has been for some time engaged in perfecting a new journal bearing for railway cars which shall prevent the danger of fire from overheating of the axle—that is, from what is technically known as a "hot box"—had not long since an interview with an official of a company which was to take up the invention.

The interview took place at the home of the inventor, and his daughter, a young lady well on in her teens, sat in an adjoining room, where she overheard all that was said. Although she listened intently she did not understand all the details of the conversation, but that she was much impressed by what she did hear was shown by the fact that the next day she confided to an aunt that the family was on the eve of a great success.

"I heard papa telling Mr. Blank all about his new invention last night," she explained, "and Mr. Blank said there was a fortune in it." "But what sort of an invention is it?" her aunt inquired. "The girl put her head thoughtfully on one side for a moment. 'I am not quite sure,' she answered, 'trying to recall the talk which she had overheard the day before, but I think that papa has invented a new kind of hot box.'—Youth's Companion.

References No Good.

"New York references are no good," said the attorney for a collection agency. "We never take them. When a note is due we just crack ahead and bring suit. Then the man must pay costs besides. That is the way we get our living. We rarely ever counsel extensions. Nine cases out of ten, if a man wants four or five days and gets it he'll never pay at all, and the advantage arising from immediate suit is lost. All a notary has to do in case of a note is to call at a man's residence or place of business. He doesn't have to present the note for payment. If the man isn't there a suit can be begun at once without further notice. It is a legal refusal to pay if the man isn't there to receive the notary. That is the way we do business. Our business is to get the money for our clients. The creditor must look out for himself. I wouldn't give the snap of my finger for the best reference in New York."—New York Herald.

Wanted to Go to the Game.

The other day a couple of gentlemen were lunching rather elaborately at a prominent cafe. One of them sighed frequently and looked at his watch and inveighed against the necessity for work.

"Bah!" exclaimed his companion, "you would not know what to do with yourself. You thrive upon an active life. Besides you have been everywhere and seen everything, and if you had five millions tomorrow you couldn't enjoy it. No, sir. Now, look here, old man, what is your idea of pleasure? What would you do right now if you had a million? Kick off hand, now—what would you do?"

"I'd knock off this lunch and go out and see the bull game, for the first thing." (In about a minute)—"I don't see anything so awfully funny about that!"—New York Herald.

A Forgotten Fortune.

Matching the stories of valuable and unappreciated oil paintings sold for a song is one concerning a miraculous transaction in Chevreuse china. Early in the past century a gentleman presented a reverend friend with two vases as a wedding present. These vases stood for more than forty years on a cabinet in a Somersetshire rectory without attracting any particular notice, until a sale took place after their owner's death, at which they were bought for two guineas by a tradesman in Bath. Within a few weeks they resold for 600 guineas to a Bond street dealer, who speedily disposed of them to the late Lord Derby for 4,000 guineas.—New York Home Journal.

The great university being erected by Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stanford in memory of their son at Palo Alto, is arranged to admit men and women on an equal footing. One hundred dollars a year covers the sum of maintenance for each pupil, although everything is as complete in equipment about the institution as modern invention can design.

Baron Hirsch's fortune is variously estimated from $20,000,000 to $30,000,000. His father was a Bavarian banker. The foundation of his fortune was a railway contract with the Turkish government. It has since been enlarged by other railway manœuvres in eastern Europe and by speculations on the Paris bourse.

H. L. FISH,

NOTARY PUBLIC AND CONVEYANCER

A CONTRAST.

State elections are to be held in Ohio and Iowa this year. In Ohio the Republicans have formulated a platform and nominated a State ticket and in Iowa the Democrats have done the same thing. Both have sounded the key notes of their respective parties on the silver question. The Ohio Republicans say on that very important subject:

Thoroughly believing that gold and silver should form the basis of all circulating medium, we endorse the amended coinage act of the last Republican Congress, by which the entire production of the silver mines of the United States is added to the currency of the people.

This plank was submitted before its adoption to the Gold bug of the White House and received his approval, and was subsequently adopted by the convention. It takes silver the plaything of Wall street brokers with no fixed value, and it stops the coinage of silver at Carson. It keeps the small mines of Nevada, which are owned by poor men, closed, until possibly some home or foreign syndicate of capitalists go into the market to purchase silver bullion for speculative purposes, as they sometimes do with copper.

The Iowa Democratic Convention, composed of men who represented the people, not brokers and capitalists, believing that silver mining should receive as much encouragement as tin mining, adopted this resolution:

We reiterate our demands of a year ago for the free coinage of silver, and that it be made full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and denounce as unjust and dishonest the provision of the law recently enacted, the act of July, 1890, allowing parties to stipulate against payments in silver and silver certificates. This is condemned as the setting up of one standard for the creditor and another for the debtor, one for the poor and another for the rich man.

That plank was not submitted to the President for his approval, but is presented to the people and it is believed will receive their endorsement. It demands free coinage and denounces the act which the Republicans approve for setting up one standard of money for the creditor and another for the debtor, one for the poor man and another for the rich man.

The Ohio Republican silver plank receives the approval of every gold bug not only in the United States, but in Europe, where the money kings want cheap silver, while the Iowa Democratic plank is just what every farmer in the Mississippi Valley, and what every silver miner in the silver producing States require. Still though those facts are indisputable, there is not a Republican place hunter or newspaper in Nevada that will endorse the Iowa Democratic free coinage plank because it is not in accord with gold bug ideas.

ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENTS.

For the entertainment of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers at Columbia College, New York, Nikola Tesla illustrated a lecture with a series of experiments which surprised and enlightened his audience. The New York Recorder says Tesla, who has a high reputation as an electrician, has been experimenting upon a practically new electric light, but it was not known outside his laboratory that he had achieved such wonderful results or came so near revolutionizing the theory of light. He demonstrated by experiments that incandescent lamps do not require two or three single wires to feed them, but that a single wire from a dynamo with a single branch to each lamp will answer the purpose equally well. He also does away with the carbon filament which furnishes the light in the incandescent lamps, and substitutes a solid block of carbon. The branch wire terminates in this block and causes a glow just as the continuous circuit does in the slender carbon filament now in use. This carbon filament is the most serious objection to the present form of incandescent lamps. It must necessarily be very slender to offer the required resistance to the passage of the current, and being carbon is also unavoidably of fragile substance, hence the filaments are constantly breaking, and each destroys a lamp, of which the estimated manufacture is 50,000 a day. The carbon blocks which Tesla purposes substituting for the lamps are made at little cost and can be depended upon to perform their work as reliably as a gas burner.

Tesla demonstrated that electric light is possible without any lamp whatever. This was done by connecting two large sheets of zinc to the terminal of the circuit, the sheets being about fifteen feet apart. The plates served for condensers and received the charge of electricity from the wires. Between these zinc sheets a glass tube was introduced, from which the air had been exhausted. When this tube was placed between the sheets, although it was entirely disconnected and several feet distant from each sheet, it gave out a brilliant glow sufficient to light a room. The tube was moved about freely, but continued to glow as long as it remained in the electric field.

One of the most remarkable demonstrations made by Tesla was that showing the absolute harmlessness of his electric current. It was generated primarily from an alternating current dynamo, such as has so often been condemned as the essence of deadliness. This dynamo was speeded to its capacity, and by auxiliary aid the current was raised to 250,000 volts, which, under ordinary circumstances, would be 250 times more than sufficient to kill, yet

Tesla coolly received the entire charge in his body without any unpleasant results. To accomplish this wonderful feat he transformed the dynamo current into a static current, that is, from the active current which travels only along electrical conductors to the static current, which exists without the power of traveling. Tesla's wonderful achievements are due to his having made greater progress than other electricians in the direction of harnessing this static current and making it subservient to his will.

The Eureka Sentinel learns from a distinguished Pacific Coast Republican who is close to the Harrison Administration, and who but recently returned from Washington, that the talk about Blaine being a candidate for the Presidency is the supreme nonsense. Blaine is loyal to his Chief and has given Harrison his word that he will do all in his power to secure his re-nomination and reelection. Besides this Blaine's health will not permit of his running even if he desires to enter the race, as he is suffering with Bright's disease of the kidneys.

CALIFORNIA HOT WEATHER.

The Thermometer Ranging From 100 to 116 Degrees.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—At 2 P. M. today the Signal Service reports the highest point reached by the thermometer here during the day was 100 degrees. This is eight degrees higher than yesterday. Reports from a number of points in the State indicate the temperature ranging from 92 to 104 degrees. No prostration from unusual heat is reported.

MARYSVILLE, June 29.—The maximum temperature to-day was 104, minimum 78, the hottest it has been for a number of years at this time.

PETALUMA, June 29.—There has been unusually hot weather for the last three days. To-day, however, was the hottest, the thermometer averaging 100 degrees in the shade. It places it was 104.

SONOMA, June 29.—The weather for the past three days has been extremely warm. The thermometer to-day at 3 P. M. registered 103 to 109. This is the hottest day known for years in this valley. A hot north wind has been blowing all the afternoon. It is feared that if the present weather continues another day that damage to fruit may result.

GILROY, June 29.—To-day is pronounced the hottest known for fifteen years, 106 being touched by the thermometers, this afternoon there seems some prospect of a change, the wind being shifty. Farmers say grain is too far advanced to sustain any injury from intense heat.

NAPA, June 29.—This has been the hottest day of the season, and in fact for years past. The temperature ran up to 110 degrees in the shade and at 6 o'clock this evening it was still above 100. A light, south breeze has blown but it was not cool.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—The signal service reports the following additional temperatures in the State, Red Bluff 104, Fresno 110, Yuma 116, Merced 112.

HEALDSBURG, June 29.—The past three days have been exceedingly warm in this place. The thermometer ranging respectively 100, 102 and 103. It is feared much damage will be done to the fruit crop.

Damaging Floods in Kansas.

Special to the Journal.

KANSAS CITY, June 29.—The Missouri river at this point is at a dangerously high stage. The water is as high as it has been since the great flood of 1881, but still lacks several feet of that year's record. Nevertheless much damage has been done and much more is feared, as the cities above report a higher stage of water than here. At 6 o'clock this evening the water registered three feet above high water mark and 23 feet above standard low water mark. Water is rising steadily an inch an hour and will probably rise two or three feet more in the next day or two. Parts of Harlem and Hamlet, just across the river, are already submerged. About twenty-five families left their homes, taking their household goods, and are camping on high ground. All farms along the river are submerged and crops ruined. The embankment of the Hannibal and St. Joe road has acted as a sort of levee and protected a vast expanse of river bottom below it from the flood. Some fears are expressed that the embankment may not be able to withstand the pressure. Should it give way much valuable land will be submerged, including the track of the Kansas City Racing Association. On this side of the river high water has backed up the waters of the Kaw which empties into the Missouri at this place. Backwaters have submerged much of the low lands, and 100 or more squatters living there have been obliged to abandon their homes. Water also backed up the sewers in Kansas City, and run out of the man holes, flooding various parts of the town.

Fire at Le Grande.

Stinson, Cal., June 29.—At 1 P. M. a fire was discovered in the Le Grande hotel. A north wind was blowing. The hotel and furniture is a total loss. The fire soon communicated to the residences of P. McBride, Fred Stutes and Mrs. Bridges of Red Bluff. All are a total loss. Loss of the Le Grande Hotel and furniture, owned by E. Fieble Redding is $9,000, insured for $5,000. Loss on residences $1,400, uninsured. W. H. Moss, lessee of the Le Grande Hotel loses a $1,200 stock of liquors and supplies, uninsured. Guests in the hotel lost everything. The cause of the fire was children playing with matches.

Forests, Fields and Residences Being Burned.

Special to the Journal.

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., June 29.—The eastern slope of Mt. Tamalpais, on which are many magnificent summer homes, was reported on fire this afternoon. The San Rafael Fire Department was called out and a large number of volunteers started out to fight the flames. The fire started on Barber's ranch, and burned about sixty acres of hay. The flames spread rapidly to J. G. Kittle's grounds, which were soon a mass of flames. The fire has gained considerable headway, but the Barber and Kittle residences are out of danger. Bill Williams' Gulch, two miles from Ross Station, is on fire, and the flames are running up the side of the mountain. The fire now covers an area of about 1,000 acres. The crackling of the flames can be heard a mile distant, and the air is full of cinders and ashes. The fire has spread to the south, and is now rapidly approaching the magnificent residence of A. E. Kent. One hundred men are fighting the fire, but it is thought it cannot be extinguished within forty-eight hours. Another brush fire started east of town near the Hotel Rafael, and fifty acres of eucalyptus trees are in flames. The whole town turned out to fight this fire, and as there was no water they had to fight it with branches and sacks.

An Officer in the Army Runs Away with a Girl. He Leaves a Wife.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—An evening paper says: First Lieutenant Benj. S. Wever of the First U. S. Infantry, stationed at Benecia, is missing and it is rumored he has deserted and gone to Chili with a young woman from Fort Bidwell who passed under the name of Miss Rose Hooper. It is also reported that funds of the company are missing. Lieutenant Wever has a wife living at Columbus, O., a daughter of Capt. Callahan of the First Infantry. Wever was court martialed and dismissed from the army in 1886 for disobedience, unbecoming conduct and absence without leave, but was reinstated by President Cleveland.

The New People's Party.

Special to the Journal.

MILWAUKEE, June 29.—The constitution and by-laws of the new People's party, as revised and changed by Secretary Schilling, was made public to-day. The articles call for the organization and regulation of local clubs to be conducted under the auspices of the national body. Stated meetings shall be held by every club. A President shall be elected at each meeting. Any citizen of the town or country may become a member by signing the declaration of principles and platform of the national body and pledging himself unqualifiedly to support the principles as enunciated. Any member who makes a motion to endorse a candidate of or enter into a fusion with any other political party shall immediately cease to be a member of the club and new party.

Fire in San Francisco.

Special to the Journal.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29.—A fire this afternoon destroyed a lodging house in Chinatown. The fire burned over an hour and the building was completely destroyed. The charred remains of a Chinese woman was found in the ruins. It is stated that five other Chinese women were burned to death, but the bodies have not yet been found.

HOOD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SASSAPARILLA

The importance of purifying the blood cannot be overestimated, for without pure blood you cannot enjoy good health. At this season nearly every one needs a good medicine to purify, vitalize, and enrich the blood, and we ask you to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. It strengthens Peculiar and builds up the system, creates an appetite, and tones the digestion, while it eradicates disease. The peculiar combination, proportion, and preparation of the vegetable remedies used give to Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar curative powers. No other medicine has such a record of wonderful cures. If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other instead. It is a Peculiar Medicine, and is worthy your confidence. Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Prepared by C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.

In the District Court at Eureka, Judge Talbot presiding, the case of John E. Jones et al. vs. The Prospect Mountain Tunnel Company, J. G. Keochen and J. P. Dangle was tried. The plaintiffs sued to recover for ore appropriated by the defendants and for the mine. The jury found a verdict for plaintiffs for $5,000 damages and the possession of the mine. It is said to be the first case in the history of Eureka wherein a verdict was rendered for private individuals against a corporation.

HOMES FOR SETTLERS.

An Opportunity to Purchase and Cultivate Farms.

Prosser Valley, which is situated about four miles northeast of Reno, contains from 1,200 to 1,500 acres of rich, sagebrush-covered land. The soil is as fertile as any in the State, being alluvial, free from boulders and alkali. There is one or more springs in the foothills, but not an acre of land is under cultivation, though this season, because of the prevalent rains, it would doubtless produce abundant crops of grain or alfalfa. It is owned by the Reno Water, Land and Light Company, which also owns the Highland ditch. Now this company advertises to sell 1,000 acres of land in the valley, in 25-acre tracts and to enlarge and extend the Highland ditch to the valley so that there will be abundance of water for irrigating the land.

This affords an excellent opportunity for settlers to acquire homes in a most desirable locality within a few miles of the railroad and of the town of Reno. It is as inviting a situation as can be found on the coast and it is only a few miles from a mining district which promises in the near future to furnish a home market for all the products of the valley. There is an abundance of wood for fuel, fence posts, etc., in the adjacent mountains, and the valley is protected from the cool blasts of the Sierra Nevada by sheltering hills. The land should go like hot cakes in a miners' boarding house, as it will, as soon as cultivated, be as productive and valuable as any in the State.

THE SAWDUST NUISANCE.

The Mill Men Disposed to Abate It.
J. A. Richardson, Deputy Fish Commissioner of California arrived in Reno yesterday on a tour of inspection. He has examined all the lumber mills on the Truckee and finds the owners disposed to suppress the sawdust nuisance. The Truckee Lumber Company has built a flume to bank the sawdust and only a few shavings now get into the stream from that source. Lewison & Smith have also taken steps to keep the sawdust from the mill out of the water. The Cold Stream Mill Co. have gone to work to prevent saw dust from their mill from getting into the river and Mason & Kidder, who are building a mill above Floriston, are arranging to keep the saw dust out of the river. Fish ladders have also been placed at every dam so that the smallest as well as the longest fish can go up the stream without difficulty.

Grand Jury Report.

RENO, June 29, 1891.
In the District Court of the State of Nevada, in and for Washoe county.

To the Hon. A. E. Cheney, District Judge of the District Court of Nevada:—Your Grand Jury empaneled to serve at the present session met this day pursuant to the call of the Foreman, and beg leave to report at this time that we examined two cases and found one true bill, viz: one bill for burglary. We have ignored one bill for robbery on account of the absence of witnesses.

W. R. CHAMBERLAIN,
Foreman.

The advocates of the Sherman Commodity Silver Act think that because Cleveland left the Carson mint closed as it had been under a Republican Administration, that Harrison should not be blamed for closing it now. No Nevadan should humiliate himself by offering any apology for a gold bug President, whether he be Cleveland or Harrison, though the latter is in accord with his party on the silver question, and the former was not.
